St Martins School

The school's ECO credentials have had a boost this term - a big thank you to the PTA who have bought school 2 outdoor water fountains - these will be fitted by our maintenance team over the next few weeks, so please ensure your children come to school with a reusable named water bottle. This will reduce use of single use plastic bottles.

Year 5 visited Wood Lane Nature Reserve where they explored a number of habitats. They were also given a tour of the Tudor Griffiths Recycling Centre and gained a greater understanding of the waste produced in this country and how we deal with it as a society.

This week, we received a giraffe from The British Ironworks to collect plastic bottle tops. The Eco-council headed by Ms Kerr helped assemble it and were the first to contribute plastic bottle tops. The giraffe will stay in St Martins for a month, and for that time we need to collect as many bottle tops as possible. At the end of the project, we will be creating a structure, or art work, for the school using the recycled bottle tops. If you have any bottle tops to donate, please pass them on to your year group Eco-council representative, or hand them in at the school reception.

Mrs Ashton is busy putting together local history resources for our students to use in class topics. If you have any old photos, news cuttings, etc about our local area please contact Mrs Ashton.

My open house takes place on Monday at 2.20pm; please pop in if you have any questions or queries. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Ms Lovecy

Jonathan Walton gave a fascinating talk to year 5 about some of the adventures that he had when he worked for six months in the Antarctic as Glaciologist. He quizzed year 5 on where Antarctica is, the animal life you will see, the temperature and the population.

He brought a slide show about what it is like to live for 6 months on the continent. The talk also covered the scientific work that he started which still being collected and analysed today. Jonathan is one of 8 members of his family to have visited this continent, his father Kevin Walton and he are the only father and son to have been awarded the polar medal. He brought fossils, antique whale teeth, his medals and his father's medals, a model of a polar sledge and examples of the clothing worn on his adventures.

At the end of last term, when the country took to the polling stations, so did St Martins School! The whole school took part in an election to help understand the importance of democracy and using your right to vote. Students were invited to register a party, with a manifesto about how they would spend £350 to benefit everyone in the school whilst adhering to the rules of the election.

All the parties got involved in campaigning from holding hustings, canvassing, putting up posters. Pupils were registered to vote and given polling cards to use at the polling station on the day - we are pleased to announce that the returning offer (Ms Mooney) has declared the Gym Party the winning party! Well done to Myles Batha, Luis Farouk, Tyler Gill, who will now be working with me on how they intend to deliver their manifesto.

Chicago and All that Jazz

The Holroyd Community Theatre hosted Moreton's home-grown production of Chicago. Ahead of its official opening and with temporary lighting and sound, the setting gave the girls their first taste of a professional venue.

The play explores the transient nature of celebrity status, and how apt a theme in an age where celebrity can mean anything from eating insects in the jungle to an anaemic social media influencer.

Produced and directed by Head of Drama, Kate Howells, this vaudeville of musical theatre transported the audience to prohibition 1920's Chicago: smoky, gritty, sensationalist, it really did have 'All that Jazz'.

Roxie Hart and Velma Kelly learn to manipulate others as they tussle for notoriety, and let's be clear, Kim Kardashian's idea of media manipulation is small-scale compared to these women! Chicago really 'can't resist a reformed sinner' and the newspaper's readership are capricious sycophants – happy to move on to the next big story on a daily basis.

The performance started with a slick, toe-tapping production number 'All that Jazz' and continued in Howells' usual well-energised fashion. The performers moved into each formation and position with such style and attention to detail.

Sixth Form students Abby Watkinson introduced and carried the narrative through her role as announcer, while Alysha Brown played Billy Flynn the 'silver tongued prince of the courtroom'. Her performance described as 'comedic genius'. A self-seeking lawyer, Billie waved his jazz hands and allowed every member of his entourage to fawn! An able puppeteer, he pulled the defendant's strings with consummate ease.

In amongst the comedy were moments of pathos. A beleaguered Mr Cellophane's simple invisibility was performed so ably by Belinda Matthews and reduced some audience members to tears. As the song progressed, Belinda's voice echoed through The Holroyd Theatre. Her musicality and tone were awe-inspiring.

Leading raunchy protagonists Roxie, played by Milly Wray and Jemima Davenport respectively, and Velma, played by Megan Keaveny, excelled in their roles as ambitious and calculating murderesses, stepping over each other with a 'rhinestone heel'. Their razzle dazzle voices captivated and enchanted the audience. They were competing for attention as much as their freedom – which mattered more?

As always, the ensemble numbers were crafted with precision and flair. Every member of the cast performed with energy and élan.

Roxie and Velma's story ends with a sensational double act, but the symbolism looms large – guns become props. One is left reflecting on where sensationalist stories, propaganda and self-interest will lead.

An excellent production, with an equally professional venue.

St Martins Recreation Partnership - Update

Following the granting by Shropshire Council of the planning application for a change of use of the land behind St Martins School from Agriculture to Recreation and Education use, the parties involved have met to form an interim steering group to oversee the proposed development of the facilities intended for the joint use of both the school and the community of St Martins, which will feature an artificial 3G pitch to football league level 5 standards (where it is hoped that St Martins FC will be able to play their home fixtures) as well as a multi use games area (MUGA) suitable for several ball sports, a cricket oval and facilities for other sporting activities including archery, running and many others.

The steering group, which held its first meeting at the school in late January, currently includes the Head of School, the School Business Manager and the Chair of Governors, along with the Chair, Vice Chair and Chair of Finance from the Parish Council and the Treasurer of St Martins FC. The group plans to meet monthly to begin the process of activating the planning consent as soon as practicable, agreeing the design concept for the overall recreation site, setting the timescales and priority sequences for the project, ensuring that all interested groups and clubs in the village can be involved in the plans and development process and

- a huge task in itself - starting to identify the cost of creating all the facilities desired for the future.

Although the new facilities are not likely to come on stream for some time, the intention is to start the required fund raising, including applying for grants, as early as the Spring and it is hoped that work on the ground can be seen to start as early as the Summer of 2020.

Health Matters

In each issue I hope to discuss a different musculoskeletal issue. This month I'm going to address back pain.

What is back pain?

That might sound like a silly question; however trouble with your back doesn't simply produce pain in the back. It may be the cause of more remote symptoms like pain in the buttocks or legs ("sciatica"). A back problem may also lead to pain in the neck, shoulders, arms and headaches, as it disturbs the mechanical function of the whole body and can be debilitating.

The pain itself is an 'alarm' to tell us we need to help ourselves. It can be caused by a nerve being 'pinched', but more often it is the result of inflammation or muscle soreness. Usually pain comes from an overloaded spinal 'segment', caused by other areas of the back not working correctly and the imbalance of muscles. Back pain is often the result of injury, postural change, wear and tear, or just areas in our back getting stiff and left unnoticed until the lower back can't cope doing all the work, and very occasionally it's a symptom of disease e.g. kidney stones.

Recommended by the NHS NICE guidelines for the treatment of back pain, Osteopaths use a combination of techniques, including articulation of joints and massage of soft tissues, to release areas of tension and improve overall function of the spine. This allows the tissues to nourish, replenish and repair themselves more naturally. We're skilled at diagnosing problems that may require further investigation or medical intervention. We can also advise what you can do at home or work to help you prevent further issues.

DECEMBER MEETING

President Shirley Willis welcome members and friends to our Christmas meal at The Keys in St Martins. We had a very enjoyable festive meal and exchanged secret Santa presents. We had a quiz and there was also a raffle from which the proceeds will go to The Severn Hospice.

Eileen Rosamund presented the Competition and Exhibition Cups. There were 3 joint winners of the Competition Cup, Shirley Willis, Lynda Standish and Morfydd James. We had two joint winners for the Exhibition Cup, Alice Wilding and Shirley Willis.

JANUARY MEETING

At our meeting on 7th January 2020 our President Shirley Willis welcomed everyone and wished us all a Happy New Year. We then sang Jerusalem as it was the first meeting of the year.

After a short business meeting we went on to vote for our designated charity for 2020 and decided on Nightingale House.

Our speaker for the evening was Mr Martin Wright who is editor-in-chief of Midlands News Association and heads up The Express & Star and The Shropshire Star.

He spoke of the history of The Shropshire Star and brought along copies of the very first Shropshire Star from October 1964. Amazing to see the news of that time. He then explained how they have developed it over the years and how they now have the news on social media with their own websites. He went on to say how he sees the future for The Shropshire Star.

He was thanked by Shirley Willis. We ended the evening playing a very fun version of pass the parcel using sets of playing cards. Everyone ended up with at least one parcel to take home.

Next month on 4th February we will have Kerry Mason - "Thighs the Limit". Visitors are always welcome.

First Time Central Heating Grants

Funding is available to install free first-time central heating to vulnerable and low-income households across Shropshire. This includes households who have an existing gas connection but no central heating or where a property can be connected to the gas network for the first time. Central heating installs should be fully funded for qualifying residents and are available to tenants as well as those that own their own home.

Data provided from the Gas Network operator Wales and West has identified more than 500 households are close enough to the existing gas network to be connected. This includes some in parts of Oswestry, Gobowen, Weston Rhyn and St Martins.

Oliver Rothwell, project Manager at Keep Shropshire Warm said

“We would encourage anyone who is interested to contact our team today, whether for themselves or on behalf of a relative or friend. Funding like this doesn’t come around very often, so we’re keen to help as many people as we can”.

Applications are currently being accepted through the Council’s Keep Shropshire Warm energy advice service – which is managed by Shrewsbury based charity Marches Energy Agency.

A range of free & impartial energy advice is available from the Keep Shropshire Warm team throughout the year on Freephone 0800 112 3743 or via email advice@mea.org.uk

HAPPY NEW YEAR 2020 from us all.

The Three Parishes Big Local Partnership has been awarding funding to local groups, clubs and projects for over 5 years and we are continuing to run our grant schemes for the next year.

In the past year over £122,000 has been invested in the communities of Weston Rhyn, St Martins and Gobowen. Some of this investment has included grants awarded to successful groups and projects such as Friends of Weston Rhyn School to help towards running costs for the Weston Rhyn Fun day, Ifton Colliery Commemorative Project and many more from our Community Chest.

Larger grants that we have given include; Bronygarth Social Committee for specialist repairs to the yurts, TNS Community Foundation to run holiday activity sessions for 4-16 year olds, Derwen College for swimming pool refurbishment and covers for existing pool and the new therapy pool, and Citizens Advice Shropshire for the My Money Matters Project.

We have awarded grants to local businesses and training grants to individuals who work or volunteer in the three parishes.

Partnership Chairman Nick Heard said “The end of our fifth year has seen over 45 groups, organisations, businesses and individuals financially support in our community. We have had the opportunity to fund a wide range of projects and activities, including projects which develop skills, reduce social isolation and improve our local facilities.”

“As we move into our 6th year, the Partnership is excited about making even more of a difference to the lives of local people.”

We have already begun to award year 6 funding and St Martins Village Centre have received a grant towards work in the community garden and spaces at the Centre. We welcome and encourage new applicants. Deadlines for 2020 applications to be considered for Community Chest and Big Grants are:

15th March, 15th June, 15th September and 15th November.

Please contact Bridget for an application form.
